Library News

Libraries are all about sharing resources, and most of those resources and services are provided at no charge to patrons. But there is a catch: Books and movies borrowed from the library need to be returned so that others may enjoy them, and so that you remain as a patron in good standing. As you are putting away the last of the holiday decorations, please remember to return items borrowed from the library. Staff member Rebekah has moved away. We wish her the best.
